from the chair

Greetings from the Chair of Bicycle Indiana

Did you ride your bike today? Have you ridden it within the past week? Month? Year? Have you ever ridden your bike to school? To work? To the store? 100 miles in a single day? In a multi-day tour? Do you ride (or have you ever ridden) a road bike? A mountain bike? A kid's bike? A tandem? A recumbent? A fixed-gear track bike? One of those ol' timey penny farthings? Have you ever ridden your bike on the road? On a path? In a bike lane? On a trail? Is your bike equipped with fenders? A baby seat? Aerobars? A bell? Training wheels? Do you know any older ("more experienced") people who ride a bicycle? Do you know any children who ride a bicycle? Do you know any women who ride a bicycle? Do you have a sibling, parent, child, friend, co-worker, or neighbor who rides a bicycle?

I suspect that since you are reading this 2015 Bicycle Indiana Resource Guide (packed with information about events, retailers, and all things bicycles!) you answered "yes" to one or more of the preceding questions. I have found, however, that it is not just my active cycling brothers and sisters who are quick to reply in the affirmative (along with a few anecdotes which may or may not include dogs, flat tires, ice cream, wind, sunsets, etc.) when prompted with one of my questions. Hoosiers of all geographic, socio-economic or other categories are likely to confirm that they have a personal connection to bicycling and bicyclists.

More and more communities across Indiana are recognizing the benefits of encouraging bicycling. When more people ride, they are happier and healthier. At Bicycle Indiana, we believe this is a great trend, but we also recognize that our state can be more bicycle friendly. To that end, Bicycle Indiana is proud to be kicking off 2015 with several great projects in the works: the 2015 Roll Model calendar and blog series, a Share the Road digital storybook, a first version of the cyclist's guide to Indiana, the 2015 Indiana Bike Summit (back in Indianapolis this year), as well as our ongoing cyclist and driver education, to name a few.

In addition, Bicycle Indiana has asked the Indiana General Assembly to add Indiana to the list of a majority of states with a safe passing law. The proposed law will require the operator of a vehicle overtaking a bicycle to allow at least three feet of clearance between the vehicle and bicycle. Contact your legislators and let them know that you: (1) care about the safety of bicyclists who have the legal right to ride on public roads; (2) are one of the more than 3000 household members of Bicycle Indiana; (3) are among the 97.9% of all Hoosiers who live within 15 minutes or 7.5 miles of a trail, bikeway or greenway; and (4) support the safe passing law!

I hope you enjoy the 2015 Bicycle Indiana Resource Guide and hope that it contains information that will enhance your bicycling experience whether you ride on a road or a trail, on a mountain bike or a penny farthing.

Keep turning those pedals!

Jay Church, Chair

Cycling Event*

Thanks to our Supporters!

Bicycle Indiana would like to thank the follow organizations, clubs, and retailers for their financial support and commitment to improving bicycling in Indiana:

Gold Members:

Annual Report:

Everything we do is centered around our belief that riding a bike should be safe for everyone. We do this through education, influencing change, and promoting, building, and supporting partnerships. We are a bicycle advocacy organization.

We know what that means to us, but what does it mean for our members and constituents? Sometimes it is difficult to answer that question, as much of the work we do is intangible for the majority of our members and constituents. Our time, programming and services focus on three core areas: Promote, Educate and Advocate.

Promote: You are currently reading Bicycle Indiana's most visible product - our annual Resource Guide - which promotes all types of bicycling events and activities throughout Indiana. Thousands of copies of this guide are distributed throughout Indiana and the surrounding states each year.

Educate: Our education programs focus on safe roads for all, and we work with both people who ride bikes (often referred to as cyclists), as well as motorists. Our Drivers/Riders in the Know program, which launched in 2013, expanded in 2014, with a strong focus on Elkhart and LaGrange Counties. We also developed new PSAs and a digital storybook for motorist outreach.

We distributed thousands of pieces of safety literature and reference publications, and helped organizations purchase helmets and safety gear. We developed first versions of the Cyclist's Guide to Indiana and a layperson's guide to bike and pedestrian infrastructure. And so much more! See our expanded report at www.bicycleindiana.org for even more information.

Advocate: In 2014, we hosted the Indiana Bike Summit in Bloomington and a Winning Campaigns Training, in partnership with the Alliance for Biking and Walking, in Indianapolis. We also attended the National Bike Summit in Washington, D.C., and represented Indiana while visiting legislators on Capitol Hill.

Planning is well underway for spIN 2015: the Indiana Bike Summit, March 19-20 in Downtown Indianapolis. This year's theme is "It's More Than Just a Bike." Mark your calendars, and plan to join us.

As always, we are so grateful for our members and constituents. Those of you who are members, make donations, purchase the I Share the Road license plate, attend the Indiana Bike Summit, and otherwise support our programs, you make our work possible. We could not do these things without your support!

Thanks again for a great 2014. We're looking forward to an even bigger 2015!

If you are interested in reviewing financial reports and expanded activity information, please go to www.bicycleindiana.org.

Safe Roads for All

We believe that everyone has the right to arrive at their destination safely, no matter what their mode of transportation.

But unfortunately, every day, Hoosier are injured - or worse - killed while riding a bike. When will these tragic events stop happening?

Bicycle Indiana programs like Drivers/Riders in the Know have been developed to educate and encourage road users, whether they are riding a bicycle or operating a motor vehicle. This year, as part of Drivers in the Know, we have created SHIFT, a digital online Share the Road storybook, to be released in early 2015. We hope you enjoy the storybook, and will share it with your friends and family.

Bicycle Indiana also works with the Indiana Bureau of Motor Vehicles to educate young drivers about how to safely share the road with people on bikes. Our 2015 goal is to become even more involved with drivers education courses, and potentially help develop a standard curriculum for the state.

People riding bikes are our friends, neighbors and family members. And, the levels of awareness motorists have about bike riders and the law can be a matter of life and death.

Additionally, Bicycle Indiana continues to work toward safe passing legislation for Indiana. 23 other states in the U.S. already have these life-saving laws in place.

You can stay updated and help spread awareness of these activities by following our social channels, as well as our blog at blog.bicycleindiana.org.

With your support, we continue our quest for Safe Roads For All.

bike smart and stay safe

As with all outdoor activities you need to take some action when bicycling to prevent injuries and to make the activity more enjoyable. Here are some safety tips for bicycling.

1. Always Wear Your Helmet – Be sure it covers your forehead and fits properly. Helmets are for all ages – set a good example to others by wearing your bicycle helmet every time you ride.
2. Ride on the Right – Always ride with traffic.
3. Obey All Traffic Laws – Stop at stop signs and stop lights and obey one-way streets.
4. Signal and Look before turning.
5. Ride in a Predictable Manner – Ride in a straight line. Don't swerve between parked cars.
6. Use Head and Tail Lights at Night – Reflectors are not enough.
7. Keep Your Bike in Good Repair – Have it tuned up by a professional bike mechanic regularly.
8. Yield to Pedestrians – Pedestrians have the right of way.
9. Ride Defensively. Follow the rules of the road. In Indiana, the bicycle is a vehicle and has all the rights and responsibilities of other vehicles. This means stopping at stop signs and stoplights, riding on the right side of the road, and signaling for turns.
10. Drink before you're thirsty, eat before you're hungry. Take along plenty of water.

Use sports drinks for longer rides. Snacks to take along include cereal bars, cookies, fig bars, and fruit (bananas, apples are best).

11. Items You Should Carry: Identification, money (for ice cream or other goodies along the ride), tools, spare inner tube, bicycle pump. There are many different bags that you can attach to your bike that could carry what you'll need for the day.
12. Plan a ride less than 10 miles when riding with small children, those who have not bicycled very much or if the terrain is challenging. Plan stops along the route or have a destination in mind.

indiana paved trails & greenways

Indiana has two organizations whose work supports paved trails and greenways - the Hoosier Rails to Trails Council and the Greenways Foundation. Both organizations are headquartered in Indianapolis and their work benefits all Hoosiers.

Hoosier Rails to Trails Council:

Since 1987 HRTC has participated in and advocated for rail-trails, trails generally, bikeways, safe bicycling, walkways, pedestrianism, public transportation, wise land use, and healthy lifestyles.

Originated as the first proponent of the Monon Rail-trail, HRTC steered Indianapolis to acquire and build the Monon. HRTC has also lobbied for trail bills, complete streets policies, and safe bicycling in the Indiana General Assembly.

Additionally, HRTC has hosted legislative lunches in promoting state policies for trails and provides technical and advocacy support to persons in national, state, and local groups about corridor preservation and trails.

HRTC offers the most complete website about Indiana trails – specifically rail trails – including trail maps, trail descriptions, trail pictures, and statewide news, policies, video histories and additional information.

Responsible tips for riding mountain bike trails:

1. Be prepared – Know your equipment, your ability, the weather, and the area you are riding and prepare accordingly. A well-planned ride will go smoothly for you and your companions.
2. Don't ride on closed trails – Whether it is to protect the environment or for ride safety, a closed trail is off limits for a reason. Riding closed trails is not only illegal; it gives mountain bikers a bad reputation.
3. Say NO to mud – Riding a muddy trail can cause unnecessary trail widening and erosion that may lead to long-lasting damage.
4. Respect the trail, wildlife and the environment – Be sensitive to the trail and its surroundings by riding softly and never skidding. Do not litter and never scare animals.
5. Stay on the trail – Do not intentionally ride off trail. Riding off trail can damage the ecosystem. Never cut switchbacks.
6. Ride slowly on crowded trails – Just like a busy highway, when trails are crowded you must move slowly to ensure safety for all trail users.
7. Pass with courtesy and care – Slow down when approaching other trail users and respectfully make others aware you are approaching. Pass with care and be prepared to stop if necessary.
8. Share the trail – Mountain bikers, hikers, and equestrians share multi-use trails. Remember: mountain bikers should yield to hikers and equestrians.
9. Don't do unauthorized trail work – Unauthorized or illegal trail work may lead to environmental damage, injury or even potential trail closure.
10. Get involved – If you want to make a difference in community get involved with a local club.

indiana mountain bike trails

Mountain Bike trails in Indiana are supported by mountain bike enthusiasts who help to build, maintain, and monitor the trails. Two organizations in Indiana are instrumental in their efforts to increase Indiana's mountain bike trails along with the awareness of the trails.

If you have an interest in participating, volunteering, or riding Indiana's mountain bike trails and would like more information contact:
